The Enormous Turnip
by Ian Beck

The value we are learning about this half term is:
Respect

The nursery rhyme we are learning about this week is:
Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary

This week we will also be:

- Performing 'The Enormous Turnip' in front of our friends
- Planting cress seeds
- Looking inside fruit and vegetables
- Painting with different materials

Snapshots of the Previous Week's Learning and Activities

This week, the children participated in their first performance with us in Nursery. I'm sure you will all agree that they did a brilliant job singing and signing to the Harvest songs. We are all so proud of them! We have been reading 'My 5 Senses' this week and having lots of discussions about what our senses are. Each day we have focused on a different sense and completed various activities including a listening walk, smelling different aromas, a science experiment and a taste test.

Other Information

Now that all the children are settled in Nursery, they are ready for the next step in becoming more independent. As such, could we please ask you to leave your child at the door at drop off and encourage them to enter Nursery on their own. We understand that some children may still find it difficult to put their belongings away but there are plenty of staff on hand to support them with this. The cloakroom has become very congested at drop off and this makes it difficult for staff to have eyes on the children that have entered Nursery independently. Thank you for your continued support.
