Snapshot of this Week's Learning and Activities

The children have made us so proud this week. We started the week learning all about Remembrance Day. We discussed that it's a day to stop and think about the people who worked and fought to keep our country safe during the war. We explained that we wear a poppy because when the war ended, poppies grew where the soldiers fell. On Tuesday, the whole school gathered for a 2-minute silence. The children stood so beautifully while 'The Last Post' was played. We have also been reading 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff'. The children have enjoyed engaging in book related activities such as building a bridge for the goats to cross and painting their own troll!
